WHY EARNEST WAS BEATEN

He Says That His Friends Stayed at Home and Didn't Vote.

Albert Earnest, the defeated Democratic councilman from the Second ward, told a JOURNAL reporter today that he was squarely beaten so far as the opposition to him was concerned, and that there will be no contest of Mr. Stevenson's seat. He says his defeat was due to the apathy of his friends. "They thought I had a walkover," Earnest says, "and didn't take the trouble to vote. The stay-at-home vote was mine, not Stevenson's. I think Stevenson polled his full vote, but there were 1,000 who didn't vote at all. I am frank to admit that the result was a surprise to me and my friends. It is not what I and my friends had reason to expect. Some of my friends must have gone back on me."

SUBSTITUTED CARMEN.

The Programme of the Grand Opera Festival at Kansas City Improved.

It is expected that fully a carload of Topeka people will go to Kansas City week after next each day of the grand opera festivals there.

If a sufficient number club together no doubt the railroads will make a special rate for thirty or more. Lee E. Spring the local agent of the festival writes the Journal today as follows:

"In regard to the grand opera festivals in this city, we beg to advise you that instead of Mme. Taverly as the prima donna soprano, the management have been successful in obtaining Mme. Louis Natalie, and 'Trovatore' will be given the night of the 18th, 'Lucia' the 19th, 'Faust' the 20th, 'Carmen' the night of the 21st, and 'Cavalleria Rusticana' for the matinee Saturday. You can say that Mme. Natalie is the handsomest woman on the operatic stage, and that she has the sweetest voice that has ever been heard in the west, aside from Patti."

THEY MADE A BIG SHOW

Parade of the Salvation Army Last Evening

IN HONOR OF VISITING OFFICERS

Present from Oklahoma Towns and Kansas City—The Meeting at Hamilton Hall.

Kansas avenue presented a lively appearance last evening, and from the number of people on the streets it looked like a flambeau parade was imminent. Captain Drysdale is a man about six and one-half feet tall and of very slim build, and didn't look at all like a Hindoo. He wore a red jacket, yellow trousers and a yellow turban. One other man wore the costume of India and the eighteen women wore yellow chevron cloth dresses made in Hindoostanee fashion with turbans. Following these were the members of the army, all the men carrying torches. The occasion was the torchlight parade of the Salvation Army. At 7 o'clock the forces began to mass and by 7:30 o'clock, the army was in line and marched south on the avenue, and then counter-marched to Sixth street and thence to Hamilton hall on Quincy.

First came Major Sully and Captain Deddon on horse-back. A band followed and behind it came Captain Drysdale dressed in a Hindoo costume heading some twenty others attired in that style. Blanche Cox carried a broom in the parade. An immense crowd followed the procession. Arriving at their destination the procession disbanded and took possession of the hall. All those who took part in the parade were seated on the stage. Major Sully had charge of the meeting. Nearly a thousand people crowded into the hall paying 25 cents apiece for the privilege. An opening song was sung and then the "Southwestern Skirmishers" sang a duet. Captain Drysdale was introduced and spoke about his work in India. He said that it used to be that the Salvation Army people didn't dare to go there for fear of being killed, but now they were welcomed. Captain Drysdale's wife also spoke of the work among the women in India. Captain Deddon, of Kansas City, sang a song, and Staff Captain Blanche Cox was introduced. She was dressed in the slum costume, which consisted of a plain blue dress and a handkerchief tied about her shoulders. She has the characteristic pronunciation of the English, she told of the work of the Salvation Army in the slums of the great cities—how the poor are taught about the Savior in a practical way. She told how she and some sister workers had converted an old man who was very sick in a filthy tenement. The Salvation Army reached people that word of otherwise be lost.

After she sat down Major Sully jumped up and said: "Now, the band will play another piece, but before that I want to ask—Well, he wanted to ask that those in the audience reach down in their pockets and help defray the expenses of these special meetings."

"Everybody smile now, while the band plays," said the leader. The band rendered a selection in good style, and then the army sang the song through some seven or eight times, with bass drum accompaniments and clapping of hands.

Mrs. Dodds, wife of Captain Dodds, made a short address. Capt. Dodds was formerly a Santa Fe boiler inspector and also something of a pugilist. He has been in fourteen fisty contests, but now he is fighting for the Lord. He sang several funny songs, and was called back the third time.

Major Sully then made a few remarks and the meeting was closed. The following officers are here in attendance on the meetings:

Captain Lee, Enid, Ok.; Captain Sinclair, Lawrence; Lieutenants Bartlett, and Bennett, and Captain Deering, Kansas City; Lieutenants Dairs and Cadet Brown, Kansas City; Captains Hall, Ottawa; and Captain Womeldorfer and Cadet Creach, Pittsburg, Kan.

Not Unaware.

The peripatetic agent walked into the busy man's office and set his sample case down by the desk.

"Good morning," he said. "May I have a few moments of your time?"

"No," he replied in a convincing tone. "I've no time to talk to you."

"But you may be entertaining an angel unaware," coaxed the smooth agent.

"Possibly," returned the busy man, "but you bet I'm not entertaining a book agent unaware, and don't you forget it. Good morning. Get out." And he did.—Detroit Free Press.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Items of Interest About Topeka People and Visitors in Town.

A crowd bent on having a jolly time could be seen Tuesday night in Prof. Wetherell's hall. It was a masquerade, and the ridiculous appearance of some of the participants evoked considerable mirth, and some of costumes were very pretty. There were a number of visitors who seemed to enjoy the affair as much as the dancers themselves, and among them were: Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wood, Mrs. Clara McCabe, Mrs. Julia Sommers, Mrs. Clara Campbell, Mrs. J. R. Hankla, Misses Bessie Van Amberg, Ida Smith, Anna McCabe, Lulu Munspecker, Anna McAdams, Edith Campbell, Mary Sommers and Sarah Horner, and Messrs. F. L. Vandegrift, Al. Evans, Ed. Horner, W. J. Black, Ketter and H. V. Hineckley.

Some of the costumes were as follows: Mrs. J. B. Hayden, gypsy; Mrs. J. L. King and Mrs. H. V. Hineckley, Topis; Mrs. Robert Pierce, yellow domino; Mrs. T. E. Pound, German peasant; Ida Bond of Leavenworth, black domino; Mame Smith, nursery governess; Nellie Clough, little girl; Irene Horner, Japanese; Mame Horton, queen of hearts; Glenna Ross, black domino; Margaret Mulvane, Dolly Varden; Mary McCabe, college student; Mary Horner, quakeress; Nellie Adams, Spanish senorita; J. L. King, black domino; Ben Akers, scout; J. B. Hayden, Alvin Joslyn; Robt. Pierce, black domino; Chas. Dick, sultan of Turkey; Archie Williams, cadet; A. B. Quinton, monk; J. R. Hankla, Irishman; Clarence Horner, courier; J. F. Jarrell, bandit.

Mrs. G. N. Hubbard gave a charming party yesterday afternoon for her little son, Donald Lippiatte, and a dozen babies accompanied by their mothers enjoyed a frolic. Lilies of the valley were used with dainty effect about the rooms and a lunch was served late in the afternoon. The guests were Marion Frances Wear, Lucille Mills, Rose and Marshall Hite, Mary Helen Shirer, Katherine McCarter, Edward Tirrell, Robert Merrill Gage, Archie Brier and Will Conners, Jr.; Mrs. H. L. Shiner, Mrs. Arthur Mills, Mrs. Norman Wear, Mrs. Dick Hite, Mrs. Dr. McCarter, Mrs. Ed. Epps, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. James Brier, Mrs. Wm. Conners, Mrs. Chas. Eagle, Mrs. L. Wikidal, Mrs. A. McCabe, Mrs. H. Lescher, Mrs. Sowers, Misses Gertrude Smith, Mary McCabe, Nellie and Jennie Lescher, Julia Wikidal, Mary Sommers and Harriet O'Donahue.

A very enjoyable reception was given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. S. Clark, at her home in Lowman Hill. Her aunt, Mrs. T. W. Hubbard, of Chicago, was the guest of honor and she was assisted by Mrs. Web Hanna and Mrs. George B. Audley. Among those present were Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. E. E. Clelland, Mrs. D. Holmes, Mrs. H. H. Mills, Mrs. M. J. Barbee, and Mrs. W. A. Sloo.

The ladies auxiliary to the O. R. C. planned a very pleasant surprise party on Miss Alice Ferguson last evening. About fifty ladies and gentlemen were present. Among them were Mrs. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Flecker, Mrs. Telford, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hoyle, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. E. McCambridge, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Murry, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Note, Mrs. Stockton, Mrs. Mary McCambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Rice, Misses Maud, Dodd, Dollie Telford, Anna Purcell, Jessie and Nellie Shafer, Myrl Myers; Messrs. Ed Griffith, W. Wampler, Ned Woodward and Ed Carson.

The "Harlequin" party given last evening by Misses Helen and Fannie Moon was decidedly unique in the way of a card party, as a different game was played at each table, with progressions as in high-five or hearts. Miss Bessie Webb of Hiawatha was the guest of honor and about thirty were present.

A crowd of jolly young folks met at the residence of Miss Doyle last evening and from there took the cars for the asylum to witness the entertainment. A pleasant time was had by all. The following were in the party: Misses Minnie and Sadie Doyle, Josie and Madge Donahue, Alice Supple, Maggie Hanley, Teresa Coggins, Lizzie Purcell, Anna Taylor, Minnie Haltermann and Messrs. Ed Miller, Arthur Preston, Ed McGinnis, Ed Devitt, Jim Coggins, Patrick Donovan, Frank Eckelston, Jim Hanley, Dan Supple and Ed Warren.

Mrs. C. S. Baker entertained the reading circle at tea yesterday for Miss Ada Bond of Leavenworth.

Albert Flintham will come up from Lawrence for the party.

The young ladies of the T. Y. club entertained their gentlemen friends last evening at high five in Mrs. J. A. Waltmire's home. Eleven games were played, and Mr. Waltmire and Mr. Chas. Menard cut for the first prize, and the latter received a silver ink stand.

The booby prize was won by Mr. O. A. Keene. Palms, Easter lilies and roses adorned the parlors, and a nice lunch was served.

In the company were Misses Dollie Zimmerman, Pearl and Laverne Brubaker, Nina Garvin, Lillian Griffith, Josephine Munroe, Emma and Josephine Harmon, Lillian Hays, Misses Chas. Garvin, Ernest Minney, O. A. Keene, Chas. Menard, C. Bowes, Ed Curry, and Joe Dolman.

The "bachelors" social last evening given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Noble was a more than pleasant one. The young men of the Epworth league played hosts to perfection, and those who accepted of their hospitality were treated with the utmost deference. A quartette consisting of Messrs. Walter Noble, Ed. Epps, Paul Torrington and Prof. Culver sang several times, and Mr. Lee Forbes played some piano selections. The young men served ices and cake.

A party from town attended the wedding of Miss Emma Hanna and Mr. Chas. Sevrens, Wednesday evening at the bride's home, six miles east of the city. Rev. Mr. Porch performed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sevrens left today for Garrett to live.

SEASONABLE SUBJECTS CARPETS

The American manufacturer is at the front. Whether he makes Carpets, Furniture or anything else, he impresses upon his wares an individuality so strong that the old world with centuries of tradition at its back, can only look on and wonder. As to Carpets, every season shows an advance in one direction or another. To us, who have the insight gained by years of experience, this advance is apparent, and in buying for the public we are able to discriminate in favor of the best styles and fabrics. Such a display our warerooms make is a bountiful reward for the time spent in looking, even though your final selections be limited to one or two Carpets or to one beautiful Rug. The assortment of every weave, Ingrain, Tapestry, Moquette, Body Brussels, Wilton, Velvet, Axminster, is by far the largest in the state, and fresh from the mills.

Our prices will continue to be the lowest, and as heretofore, we will sell Carpets for what they are, not for what they seem to be.

GOT IT AT LAST.

Topeka Club Barn Burned—Let the Police Patrol the Alleys at Night.

An incendiary again set fire last night to the barn at the rear of the Topeka club house on Sixth and Harrison streets. It was the second time this week the fire department has been called out to extinguish a blaze in that barn. This time, however, the fire gained considerable headway. It had made its way from the floor to the roof before it was discovered. The efforts of the firemen were directed towards saving the club house and the house across the alley. As it is, the club house will probably have to be repaired. The loss was about $300. The building belongs to A. S. Davies, now living in California.

It is stated that nobody had been in the barn for several hours. So far as known there was nothing about the building that could cause spontaneous combustion, and there were no electric wires to do the work. Incendiarism therefore seems to be the logical explanation of the fire, especially in view of the other recent mysterious attempts.

It is time that "Jack the Barn Burner" were caught and brought to justice. This cannot be accomplished unless the police force gets a hustle on it. A judicious patrolling of the alleys might have the desired result. The police force is not big enough to cover all the alleys, but it would be good policy to do this as far as possible. All persons loitering in the alleys after 9 o'clock would at least come within the province of "suspects."

How to Improve the Complexion. Every lady that has used the celebrated Elder Flower Cream recommends it as a great beautifier. It removes freckles, tan, blotches, etc., and leaves the skin soft, clear and beautiful. For sale by J. K. Jones.

HAS NO MONEY IN IT.

An Imputation Made Against Mr. Bonebrake Refuted by Him.

Mr. P. I. Bonebrake, president of the Central National bank, said to a JOURNAL reporter today in regard to the vexed pavement question:

"At a meeting of the city council the other evening Mr. Fellows made some remarks evidently intended for me. The substance of the remarks being that I had an interest in the Barber Asphalt company."

"I would care nothing for the remarks but for the fact that similar remarks have been made several times in the city council prior to this date."

"I am frank to say that I would be glad to have an interest in that company, as they are doing a large and prosperous business in many of the larger cities."

"The facts are, however, that I have not now nor ever had a dollar's interest in that company nor in its business in come or profits. I with others went on its bond because I wanted to see the it, improved since they had furnished an ample and satisfactory indemnifying bond. I make this statement so that hereafter any person who states that I have any connection with that company's business, may know that they utter a deliberate falsehood."

"I favored the Trinidad asphalt because in my opinion it makes the best pavement in the world. I reach this conclusion after seeing it in use in Philadelphia and Washington."

"I saw the pavement on Pennsylvania avenue after it had been in use fifteen years with a traffic on it in one day equal to thirty days on Kansas avenue and it remains one of the finest streets in the world. Every American who has seen it is proud of it."

"But the pith of the whole matter and of much more importance than mere personal matters is the fact that the streets need repairs and the public not the lot owners should pay for such repairs. As I said once before the lot owners have invested in the pavements more than half a million dollars, furnishing thereby good pavements for six years without cost to the public. Now when some repairs are needed justice equity and a decent respect for the rights
